

JON KANE
WEDDING HOST & DJ

YOUR GUIDE TO
THE WEDDING
BREAKFAST

Seven ways to turn a meal into the moment everyone talks about.

THE WEDDING BREAKFAST

YOUR WEDDING HOST

Your problem solver and your party starter, all rolled into one.

As your Wedding Host, I'm more than just a guy on the mic. A Wedding Host isn't just a Master of Ceremonies or a Toastmaster. My job is to make sure your wedding is unreal.

From the moment the ceremony ends, I'm on hand to guide guests into whatever's next. That could be a confetti shot, group photos, or simply getting everyone where they need to be. I'll tick off the key moments so you can relax and soak it all up.

When it comes to the wedding breakfast, yes, it's a meal. But it can be so much more. Do you want a party, keep it classy, or a mix of both?

Whether you're after a laid-back vibe or full-on fun, I'll make sure your day is one to remember.

THE WEDDING BREAKFAST

GRAND ENTRANCES

Set the tone from the start.

Every guest has a different idea of what a wedding breakfast should be. For the two of you, it's the perfect chance to set the tone and let everyone know this wedding is going to be a little bit different. A bold entrance is a great way to do it.

It doesn't have to stop with you. Imagine your bridesmaids strutting in to their own iconic entrance song, pulling out dance moves and fist-pumping their bouquets on the way in. Or how about stitching up the groomsmen, just for a laugh?

The music you choose decides whether it's relaxed and chilled or upbeat and ready to party. Whatever you go for, I'll keep the energy at the right level all day and make it unequivocally you.

THE WEDDING BREAKFAST

ADVICE CARDS

The gift that keeps on giving.

Advice cards get your guests talking. I'll encourage everyone to share their advice for a happy marriage, favourite memories or funny stories, from Grandma's golden rules for a long and happy marriage to a legendary tale from the stag do.

They're the ultimate way to involve every guest and they work beautifully straight after the starters.

For me, they're pure on-the-job inspiration. Using music, props and even the guests themselves, I'll create moments out of thin air that no one saw coming.

And afterwards, they're a keepsake of your day.

THE WEDDING BREAKFAST

THE PHOTO-DASH

Strike a pose!

After your starters, while everyone waits for the next course, I'll orchestrate what I like to call the Photo-Dash. It's a quick-fire way to bring the energy up, fast.

Each table is invited up to the top table, or a designated spot, for an unscripted group photo with the two of you. It's timed to the length of a song, so there's a fun sense of urgency. As the music plays, each table runs over and strikes a pose.

There are no rules. Guests can be as silly or as stylish as they like. It keeps the atmosphere high, sets a playful tone for the rest of the meal, gives you a stack of extra photos for the album and keeps the photographer on their toes.

THE WEDDING BREAKFAST

BRIDE × GROOM

Are you truly in sync?

This is where it gets interesting and where we find out whose side your guests are on. The game puts you both in the hot seat to answer questions about your relationship, habits and quirks. You'll have a few seconds to decide. Are you truly in sync, or about to expose some hilarious differences?

Guests join in, so expect cheering, debates and maybe a surprise revelation or two. It comes with its own theme tune and sound effects and you can add props and a trophy for the winner. I can supply the questions, or you can write your own.

Want a twist? Invite your family and friends to take part with their partners so the spotlight isn't just on you.

THE WEDDING BREAKFAST

FIRST DANCES

A Celebration of Love

By the time you sit down for the wedding breakfast, you've been married a few hours. But there are people in the room who've been married for years, maybe even decades. Those marriages deserve celebrating too.

With a little homework before the day, or a few low-key questions on it, I'll secretly pick a few couples to take the floor and recreate their first dance.

These moments can be truly magical. Imagine grandparents who married long before first dances were a tradition. Your day might be the first time they've ever danced together that way. The reactions are priceless, from tearful applause to belly laughs.

It's a celebration of love. Yours, theirs and everyone's in the room.

THE WEDDING BREAKFAST

BINGO

A full-blown party before the dance floor even opens.

The ultimate way to finish your wedding breakfast with a bang. It's fast-paced, interactive and takes the whole room up a level.

It's bingo as you know it, but the numbers are swapped for songs everyone knows and loves. Audience participation isn't just encouraged, it's essential. Picture the whole room erupting into singalongs as tables belt out everything from timeless wedding classics to the biggest dance and R&B anthems.

Reward your guests with prizes for each round's winners to fuel the competition and turn your wedding breakfast into a full-blown party before anyone has set foot on the dance floor.

Let's plan yours.

Pick your favourites and we'll build a wedding breakfast that feels like you.

JON KANE | WEDDING HOST & DJ

jonkaneweddinghost.com